12 John Ballantyne: Alexandra Peak journey

A wide-angle photograph of a vast, snow-covered mountain range. The foreground is dominated by smooth, undulating snowdrifts. In the middle ground, two small figures of people are seen climbing a steep, snow-covered slope, leaving tracks behind them. The background features rugged, rocky mountain peaks partially covered in snow, with a cloudy sky above. The overall scene is serene and emphasizes the scale of the winter environment.
